

THINK FUNCTIONAL

ELEIKO
STRONG IS HAPPY!

For about 40 years, Eleiko has been a world-leader within international weightlifting. Since 1963, when our equipment was first used in an international championship, more than 900 world records have been set with an Eleiko barbell. That is probably a world record in itself...

Eleiko – The world's "strongest" brand

Thanks to all those years of work within functional training and elite-level training, we have gained extensive and thorough understanding in these areas. Today, not only do we offer equipment for functional strength training, but also education and workshops focused on the same topic. This combination of first-class equipment and education helps our customers reach the desired results – no matter whether they compete on the international level or just want to increase their general well-being.

In the following pages, we will introduce our product range within the business area of Gym & Fitness. If you wish to receive more information about Eleiko Sport or find out more about our products, please visit our website www.eleikosport.se.
